Market Outlook – December 2023

In December 2023, the Indian markets closed with strong gains and emerged as one of the best-performing markets globally. The Mid-cap Index and Small-cap Index were up around 7% each while all sectoral indices ended on a higher note, with Power, PSUs and Oil & Gas gaining 18%, 15% and 12% respectively.

Some of the key developments during the month: (1) The RBI, as expected, maintained the status quo on rates and kept the stance unchanged, (2) The BJP wrested control of Chhattisgarh and Rajasthan from INC and was re-elected in Madhya Pradesh for a record fifth term, (3) The Fed held rates at 5.25%-5.5% for a third straight time and laid out the timeline for rate cuts in 2024 and beyond, (4) The IMF expects India's real GDP growth rate of 6.3% in FY2024 and FY2025.

Institutional flows were positive for the 18th consecutive month as it hit an all-time high of US$8.3 Bn in December 2023, with FPIs having bought US$5.9 Bn (until 28th December 2023) of Indian equities in the secondary market, whereas DII's bought US$1.6 Bn (until 29th December 2023). For CY2023, FPI net buying stood at US$21 Bn, while domestic institutions were net buyers at US$22 Bn.

Moving forward, supported by its demographic tailwind, we expect India's terminal growth to remain higher than the rest of the world and key metrics suggest strong economic growth in the years ahead. The conditions are in place for an economic boom, underpinned by strong macro stability as a result of improving terms of trade, flexible inflation targeting and stable foreign direct investment.

Corporate earnings are forecasted to grow at about 20% annually over the next four to five years, led by an improvement in margins, emerging private capital expenditure cycle, re-leveraging of corporate balance sheets and a structural rise in discretionary consumption. India appears to have multiple areas for capex, including energy transition, the Internet, climate change, production-linked incentive schemes, growing exports, depleted capital stock, infrastructure, real estate and FDI.

On the economic front, CPI inflation in November 2023 spiked up to 5.6% (from 4.9% in October 2023), largely due to higher vegetable prices, while WPI inflation increased by 0.26% (compared to - 0.52% in October 2023). Rising oil prices and weather volatility create inflation risks but strong domestic growth could create a floor on core inflation. While we expect the RBI to cut rates in the middle of 2024, the rate cycle is likely to be a shallow one given the domestic growth impulses.

We expect equities to rise as India heads into general elections in 2024. Markets are pricing in a majority for the current ruling government and expect continuity in economic policies. Investment in manufacturing, offshoring opportunities, energy transition and the country's advanced digital infrastructure are set to fuel the economy and key catalysts for CY2024 are the upcoming elections, corporate earnings growth, a rise in net issuances and the inclusion of India in the JP Morgan Government Bond Index-Emerging Markets (GBI-EM), prompting US$30 Bn in inflows into the India G-sec market.

The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating," is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods.

Lipper Leaders for Total Return may be the best fit for investors who want the best historical return, without looking at risk. This measure alone may not be suitable for investors who want to avoid downside risk. For more risk-averse investors, Total Return ratings can be used with Preservation and/or Consistent Return ratings to make an appropriate selection that balances the risk and return. The funds in each index receive scores for each metric in each time period. The bottom 20% of funds receive a "1." The second quintile receives a "2", the third a "3", the fourth a "4". Meanwhile, the fifth quintile receives a "5". The top 20% of funds, those ranked "5," earn the "Lipper Leaders" designation.
