Market Outlook

Equity markets continued to see volatility in October. We saw a sharp rally in the market with the Nifty reaching 12,000 levels followed by some moderation. Quick sector rotation was seen with sectors such as Pharma, IT, Banking, Metals and Cap Goods taking turns in leading the market higher.

FII's turned net buyers of Indian equities in October with inflows of US$2.7bn (vs. outflows of US$767mn in September). YTD, FIIs remain net buyers at US$6.7bn in Indian equities. DIIs were net equity sellers in October with outflows of US$2.4bn (vs. marginal inflow of US$15mn in September). Both Insurance funds and Mutual funds were net sellers in October. MFs were net equity sellers at US$1.6bn while insurance funds sold US$319mn of equities in October.

India reached the peak of COVID-19 pandemic in mid-September and has witnessed decline in daily cases and number of deaths since then. Daily new COVID-19 cases have averaged ~62k in October (~46k/day in last week of Oct) vs. ~87k in September and ~64k in August. October was the first month which saw a decline in daily average cases.

The newly constituted MPC kept policy rates unchanged along with accommodative stance but came out with a slew of measures and firmer commentary to reduce the borrowing cost in the economy and bring down yields. RBI also guided rates "lower for longer" with accommodative stance set to remain as long as necessary- at least during the current financial year and into the next financial year. This gives visibility to the market of easy financial conditions in the near future.

However, the 4 major drivers of the market currently are i) US elections, ii) vaccine, iii) virus risk & new restrictions (2nd lockdown in France, Germany, the UK and perhaps soon parts of Italy) and iv) monetary & fiscal stimulus. All of these 4 risks have turned incrementally negative in the recent couple of weeks leading to a downturn in global markets.

In the short term, market volatility is expected to continue due to global developments. But easing of lockdowns and high liquidity should provide support to markets. In the current environment, it would be best to take a 3-year view as the economy and earnings would have normalized by then. Over a 3-year timeframe, we can expect a return CAGR of 10-12% for the Indian markets.
