Market Outlook – December 2022

Indian equities fell ($ terms, -5.5% MoM/-8.7% YTD), while underperforming the region and peers (MSCI APX/ EM: -0.7%/-1.6% MoM). Both mid-caps and small caps though weak, outperformed the large caps. All sectors ended the month in the red as the NIFTY declined, after having clocked a lifetime high of 18,812 at the start of the month. INR depreciated by 1.6% MoM, reaching ~82.74/USD in December. DXY weakened 2.3% over the month.

FII's were buyers of Indian equities in December (+$0.3bn, following +$4.7bn in November). So far, India has seen YTD FII outflows of $16.6bn. DII's saw buying of $2.9bn in December, reversing the selling of the previous month (-$0.8bn). Mutual funds were buyers in December with inflows of $1.32bn and Insurance funds were net buyers in the month with outflows of $1.61bn.

In India, inflation is expected to be above the upper threshold of RBI's tolerance band by end of FY23 with terminal repo rate expectation of 6.5%. The tightening of monetary policy will only have a modest impact on demand given strong household, corporate and bank balance sheets. With falling commodity prices and rate hikes by the RBI flowing through the economy, inflation is expected to return to the target range in FY24. India's Balance of Payments deficit is likely to persist in FY24 due to slowdown in exports, but it should be lower than FY23.

Amidst the changing global macro backdrop, India is in a relatively better position. We are more domestic demand driven, there is political stability with a progressive reform agenda, and overall liquidity could improve with government spending before next general elections.

India's real GDP growth is projected to be 5.8% YoY in FY24 driven by improved contribution from Consumption and Investment.

Over a longer term, positive levers in the form of strong political leadership driving the pace of reforms, demographic dividend, China+1 strategy, Domestic Manufacturing, and Digital push should drive India to become the 3rd largest economy by 2030.

We also do not see a major downside risk to corporate earnings growth in the near-term as domestic demand is resilient, rural recovery is expected going forward, credit growth is on an uptrend, and commodity prices remain well below their recent highs. Despite challenging times, most Indian corporates have been able to increase their productivity and profitability, leading to improvement in ROEs versus pre-covid levels and well above the last 10-year average. With many sectors performing better than even the pre-covid period, corporate profits to GDP in India showing a turnaround. We expect earnings could grow at a CAGR of 13-15% over FY22-24 and is expected to be driven mainly by Banking along with Auto, Consumer and Infra sectors.

Indian equities valuation is currently above long-term average and with growth moderating, we expect equity markets to give returns slightly below earnings growth, i.e., in the 8 - 10% range for CY23. However, we continue to remain optimistic over the longer term and expect CAGR returns in the range of 11-13% over next 3 years.

In the current environment, prefer companies that have a domestic focus as the Indian economy is likely to significantly outperform the global economy, hence, domestic focused themes viz. Banking and Financial Services, Discretionary Consumption, Domestic Manufacturing, Infrastructure are preferred to global cyclical.

The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating," is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods.

Lipper Leaders for Total Return may be the best fit for investors who want the best historical return, without looking at risk. This measure alone may not be suitable for investors who want to avoid downside risk. For more risk-averse investors, Total Return ratings can be used with Preservation and/or Consistent Return ratings to make an appropriate selection that balances the risk and return. The funds in each index receive scores for each metric in each time period. The bottom 20% of funds receive a "1", the second quintile receives a "2", the third a "3", the fourth a "4", and the fifth quintile receives a "5". The top 20% of funds, those ranked "5", earn the "Lipper Leaders" designation.
